

Connectivity of the Future Steeped in History: Masseria Santo Scalone Chooses Cambium Networks

“The network installed by Leonardo Informatica meets all the modern needs of a prestigious hospitality structure like the Masseria Santo Scalone, fully satisfying the customers and us.”

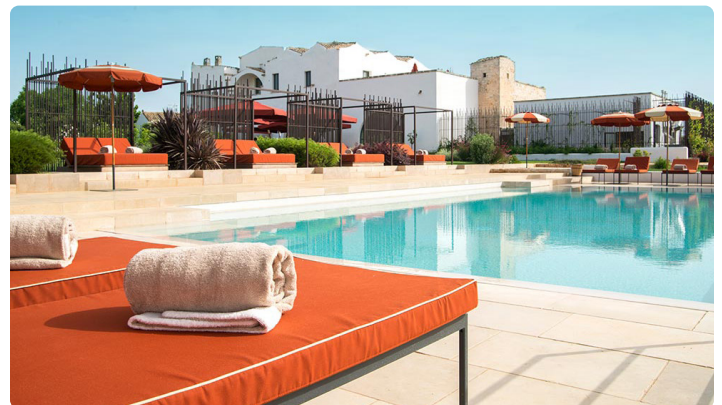

ANDREA SPADONI,
OWNER OF THE MASSERIA

BUILT AT THE END OF THE 14TH CENTURY, the Masseria Santo Scalone is one of the oldest fortified dwellings of Ostuni, in the province of Brindisi. Even today, the farmhouse still preserves its original architecture: the large complex of buildings included the “master’s” house, the peasant lodgings, stalls, and forage and crop storage. Recent restoration work has revived all its majesty in full respect of the ancient structure, which is now not only the place where agricultural activities and production take place consistently, but it is also an enchanting boutique hotel that provides an opportunity to spend a pleasant and relaxing holiday.

The Challenge

THE SPADONI FAMILY, owners of the complex, felt the need to equip the entire structure with a state-of-the-art Wi-Fi network infrastructure capable of properly supporting services dedicated to customers as well as internal activities. Therefore, they turned to the Leonardo Informatica system integrator who identified the solutions provided by Cambium Networks as those most suited for building a network from the ground up that meets the Masseria’s requirements.

The Solution

THE AREA IS NOT COVERED by data lines, so a radio link was installed which uses Cambium antennas to provide the connectivity.

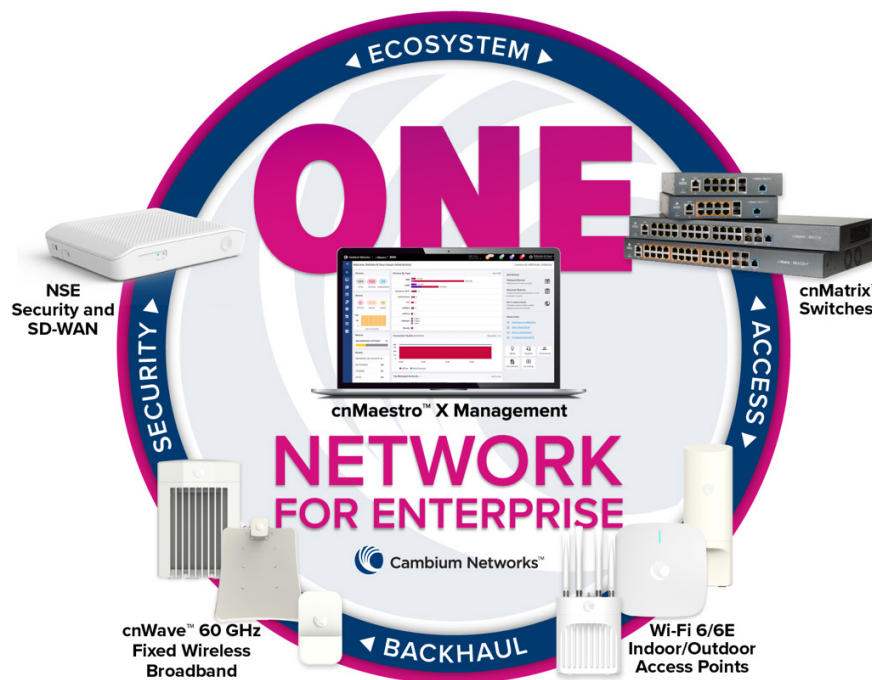

About thirty access points from the cnPilot, e430H, e600, and e700 series were installed and are managed by network switches from the cnMatrix, MXEX2016MxPA00 and EX2028PXA series.

The Results

SERVICES SUPPORTED on the network serve guests as well as the infrastructure operators - from IP telephones, to Smart TVs, to video surveillance cameras.

“The network installed by Leonardo Informatica meets all the modern needs of a prestigious hospitality structure like the Masseria Santo Scalone, fully satisfying the customers and us,” emphasizes Andrea Spadoni, owner of the Masseria.
